

FEAR FIERY TALK FROM LABOR MEN

CHICAGO TO SUPPRESS MEET- INGS LIKE SUNDAY'S

Martial Law at Hazelton—Commander of State Troops Determined To Prevent Further Marching of Any Kind—Friday Night's Shooting Is Denounced.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—[Special]—The announcement is made today that in the future, revolutionary meetings and social demonstrations will be suppressed by the police. Yesterday's threats have aroused the authorities to the gravity of the situation. It is now believed that a revolution is being planned.

Hazelton, Pa., Sept. 12.—The situation here is grave. It has been at any time since the bloody affair of Friday afternoon. There is strong reason to fear a conflict between the strikers and the military, and there is an indication that from 5,000 to 7,000 more miners will join the malcontents.

Feeling continues high against Sheriff Martin and his deputies, and the intensity of the situation is such that a sudden turn of the head or a word spoken above the ordinary tone brings a running crowd. The soldiers are watchful and ready for any emergency, and the people of the town are in a state which may easily become panic.

Trouble is in the air, and it is to come the time will be today. This is clear from the words used by Gen. Gobin, commander of the Third brigade. The striking miners have made elaborate preparations for a demonstration at the funeral of ten of the victims. The military authorities are determined that nothing of the kind shall be permitted, and that from this time on there shall be no marching of any character, whether during funerals or otherwise. This resolution is not generally known, and the miners are going on with their arrangements.

Dr. H. P. Lewandoski, of New York, representing the Polish societies of that city, arrived here Sunday. He is empowered to assist the strikers in every possible way—to help them to gain their demands from the operators and to arrange for the prosecution of the sheriff and deputies. Later in the day he said he had received word that a check for $1,000 from the National Polish Alliance, which recently met in Philadelphia, has been sent on for the aid of the miners, and that he has promises of additional large subscriptions from New York and other cities.

General Gobin talked over the telephone to Governor Hastings for an hour or more Sunday afternoon. He said he had merely made a formal report to the governor of the situation. It is apparent, however, that the commander is not cheered by the immediate outlook, although he says he thinks there will be no further turbulence. He would not say when the troops are likely to be withdrawn, and he has resolved to act with the utmost rigor. Furthermore, he made a revelation which put a startling aspect upon the situation. This was that the house of the engineer of No. 3 colliery had been broken into Saturday night by six masked men, and the engineer unmercifully beaten. The only work the man has been doing is the pumping necessary to free the mine from water.

The additions to the strikers' ranks, if made, will be the men at Cox's mines, and should they go out the last big anthracite company in the region will be idle. It was not known until Sunday that the 2,000 men employed at colliery No. 7 had a meeting at Stockton and drew up a petition to the operators demanding an increase in wages of 10 per cent. This will be presented to-day, and the action in event of refusal is "strike." It is accepted as a fact that if these men go out all the others employed by Dempsey will join them, making the total number something between 5,000 and 7,000 from these mines alone.

There are now twenty-two numbered among the dead and forty-nine suffering from wounds inflicted by bullets from the guns in the hands of deputy sheriffs last Friday. The entire valley is in mourning. There is very strong feeling among the people because of the unfortunate event. The presence of state militia and the condition of martial law do not tend to lessen the bitterness of spirit. Men who are known as reputable and law-abiding citizens declare the shooting down of strikers at Lattimer was nothing less than a massacre. It is even compared with the Wyoming massacre, which took place just across the mountains more than a century ago.

Sheriff Martin arrived in this city Sunday. He was hissed and hooted on all sides, but nobody attempted to do him injury.

TO END THE BIG STRIKE.

Miners Accept Compromise at the Convention in Columbus.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 13.—The national convention of miners finally reached an agreement regarding the great strike late Saturday afternoon. Early in the day the convention voted against the recommendations of the executive committee, but after long and rather stormy wrangling the same proposition was accepted. Following are the resolutions as presented by the committee and finally adopted by a vote of 490 to 370:

"Resolved, That we, the miners of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, in convention assembled, do hereby agree to accept the proposition recommended by our national executive committee, viz., 65 cents in the Pittsburgh district, all places in the above-named states where a relative price can be obtained to resume work, and contribute liberally to the miners who do not receive the advance, where the fight must be continued to a bitter finish.

"Resolved, That the national officers, executive board and district presidents act as an advisory board for the purpose of providing ways and means for carrying on the strike where necessary; provided, however, that no district resume work for ten days, for the purpose of giving miners in other districts time to confer with their operators and get the price if possible."

Indiana Operators Undecided.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 13.—There is considerable confusion as to what will be done in the Indiana mining field as a result of the Columbus settlement. The Indiana operators have not been consulted at any time, and have said they will be guided by the result in Illinois. Some of them say they will try to start their mines at once at the 55-cent price, which is differential on the 65 for the Pittsburgh district, but they also say that they are willing to pay this price at present because the market price of coal will warrant them in doing so. They also believe that the Illinois miners will make a strong fight to bring their operators to terms, and that at least while this effort is being made Indiana can pay the price, but that if the Illinois operators again begin mining coal under the Indiana price, Indiana miners will have to accept a reduction, as they did last May. President Knight, of the miners, has not returned from Columbus, and until his arrival the question cannot be passed upon.

Join the Ranks of Strikers.

Hazelton, Pa., Sept. 13.—Because of the unfortunate event of Friday 1,500 men employed in the Lattimer mines have voluntarily joined the strikers. Almost immediately after the shooting on Friday the men quit work in a body. They held a meeting and decided not to return to work until every demand made at every mine in the region had been conceded by the operators.

To Aid Striking Miners.

Ishpeming, Mich., Sept. 13.—The mine workers of Ishpeming and Negaunee promised at the mass-meeting to raise $5,000 for the coal miners of Illinois. All the men agreed to give one day's pay to the cause.

THE BASEBALL REPORT.

Standing of the Clubs in the Various Leagues.

Just before the Chicago team left Philadelphia for Baltimore Capt. Anson received from a St. Louisan, styling himself "millionaire brewer," an offer to any colt pitcher who wins his game from the orioles of a check for $500. Not much faith was placed upon the offer at the time, but a letter received by Clark Griffith in this city strengthens the belief that the proposition is straight. The letter received by Griffith has for its signature the name of Brewer Busch of the Mound city, and embodies a desire to see the orioles downed by the beaters this year. The Baltimore men declare that Boston is behind the thing and that it is a plot to make their pathway all the thornier. Present standing of the clubs:

	Won.	Lost.	Per cent.
Baltimore	80	33	708
Boston	83	35	703
New York	75	41	647
Cincinnati	66	49	574
Cleveland	58	59	496
Washington	54	62	466
Chicago	53	64	453

Pittsburgh	50	65	435
Philadelphia	51	67	432
Louisville	49	69	415
St. Louis	27	90	231

Only one game was played yesterday at Cleveland. Score:

Cleveland	4	0	2	5	1	0	1	2	1	5
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	2	4

Games today: Chicago at Baltimore (two games), Philadelphia at Boston, New York at Brooklyn, Cincinnati at Washington, Cleveland at St. Louis, Pittsburgh at Louisville.

Yokohama, Sept. 13.—A fierce hurricane swept over the city and harbor on Thursday night, causing severe floods, doing much damage to property and followed by considerable loss of life.

THIRD BIG WRECK WITHIN THE WEEK

DISASTER ON THE IRON MOUNTAIN RAILROAD.

Seven Killed; Six Injured—Broken Truck at Hanson, Indian Territory, Piles Up Twenty Cars of Freight, and Burns Many Persons in the Ruins

Van Buren, Ark., Sept. 13.—A disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Iron Mountain road at Hanson, I. T., a small station twenty miles west of Van Buren, at 2 o'clock Sunday, resulting in the death of seven men and the serious injury of six others. The dead:

WILLIAM FAME.
CHARLES FAME.
DOUGLASS ANDERSON.
JOHN JOHNSON.
B. HENDERSON.
FRANK HAMILTON.
H. A. WALTON.

The injured:
George Coffman.
Jack Jones.
James Phillips.
Robert Fubanks.
Charles Pender.
George Parker.

Of the wounded it is thought that two will die, as they suffered internal injuries. None of the trainmen was hurt.

The wrecked train was local freight No. 45, from Coffeyville, Kas., to Van Buren. While the train was running at twenty miles an hour the forward trucks of one of the cars near the engine broke, wrecking fifteen cars loaded with walnut logs and baled hay. With the exception of two in front and three in the rear, including the caboose, every car of the twenty composing the train was derailed. In the middle of the train was a car loaded with heavy machinery. From the ruins of this car the seven dead and six seriously wounded were taken.

WORK ON STRUBLE CASE.

Nothing Further Discovered to Weaken the Suicide Theory.

Shepherd, Mich., Sept. 13.—John F. Ryan, owner of the Farmers' Bank at Shepherd, where Cashier Elmer E. Struble met his death, was placed on the stand Saturday and subjected to cross-examination. His whereabouts on the day of the supposed murder and his business relations with Struble were made the subject of a relentless investigation. Nothing was brought out that in any way shook the theory of suicide.

Struble carried a $10,000 life insurance policy in which was a suicide clause rendering it void in case of the self-destruction of the holder within three years, and this period has not yet elapsed.

Charles K. Darling Elected.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 13.—The Sons of Veterans elected Charles K. Darling, of Boston, commander in chief and decided to hold next year's encampment in Omaha. George E. Cogshall, of Grand Rapids, Mich., was elected senior vice-commander; James W. Noel, of Indianapolis, junior vice-commander, and Horace H. Hammer, of Reading, Pa., consul in chief. The new commander appointed Frederick Bolton, of Massachusetts, adjutant-general. It was decided just before the encampment adjourned that the appointment of a committee to revise the constitution of the order so as to make it a civic organization was unconstitutional, and so the order will be military in character for at least one more year.

Will Meet Senator Hanna.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Senator M. A. Hanna will meet the National Republican League committee, appointed two weeks ago, at Cleveland to-day. The object of this meeting is to determine whether the Republican national committee will declare the league its adjunct and supply it with funds to defray its expenses. M. J. Dowling, secretary of the league, and I. M. Hamilton, Illinois committeeman, left for Cleveland last night. Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, is also a member of this relief committee.

Occupy Lebanon Pulpits.

Lebanon, Ind., Sept. 13.—Members of the northwest Indiana Methodist conference occupied the pulpits of nearly all the Protestant churches in this city Sunday. In the afternoon the eleven young men who were admitted to the conference Saturday were ordained at Centenary church. Memorial services were held for those members of the conference who have died in the last year. Bishop Walden lectured at 7:30 o'clock on "Africa and Its Regeneration."

Methodists at Rushville.

Rushville, Ill., Sept. 13.—The seventy-fourth annual session of the Illinois conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city next Wednesday. This will be the third time this city has entertained the conference.

Hoo Hoos Elect Officers.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13.—The close of the convention of Hoo Hoos Saturday night was a grotesque affair. The election of officers resulted in the selection for grand snark of A. A. White, of Kansas City. The state for holding the next meeting was fixed for Ohio.

IT IS THE GENUINE YELLOW FEVER

EXPERTS AGREE ON CASES AT NEW ORLEANS

Seven Now Have the Pest—Great Caution Is Now Being Observed to Prevent the Spread of the Contagion—Illinois Board of Health Are Ready To Take Steps.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 13.—The Board of Health Sunday officially declared six of the suspicious cases of fever in St. Claude street to be yellow fever. Subsequently the board announced another case of yellow fever at Mire and Esplanade streets, also in the lower part of the city, but a mile or more away from the infected square. No general alarm has resulted here, although the news rapidly spread through the city.

The authorities do not believe that the situation is materially worse than it was four or five days ago, and they are still confident of their ability, with modern sanitary appliances, successfully to quarantine the infected districts.

Of the original twelve cases, all of which had their origin from a case that had come from Ocean Springs, the six other than those reported Sunday as yellow fever were announced to be practically well, up walking about their houses. Of the six pronounced yellow fever, four are convalescent and two were declared to be critically ill, one of these having suffered a relapse since Saturday.

Will Protect Cairo Fully.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 13.—Dr. Egan, secretary of the Illinois State Board of Health, has received a dispatch from the president of the Louisiana State Board of Health stating that seven new cases of yellow fever had developed at New Orleans during Sunday; that Mississippi had been quarantined against and wanted to know what Illinois would do. Dr. Egan replied that he would quarantine against the entire South just as soon as it appeared absolutely necessary and not before, and that all due precautions were being used at Cairo to prevent the introduction of the pest into the north.

Excitement at Jackson.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 13.—Excitement over yellow fever has again been renewed here. An order was promulgated that all trains from the infected district be forced to pass through the city without stopping and that quarantine be enforced with all possible strictness.

LEE TALKS OF CUBA.

Believes Spain Has Already Lost the Island.

Washington, Sept. 13.—President McKinley is expected to reach the White House this afternoon. Almost immediately thereafter he will hold an important conference with Consul General Lee. The opinion is generally expressed that the president's return at this time is almost solely to have a talk with the representative of the United States at Havana, pending a comparatively rapid unfolding of the administration's Cuban policy.

So far as has been developed the president's policy is far from being an aggressive one. Up to date it undoubtedly consists of a tender to Spain of good offices, coupled with an intimation that the United States would be pleased to see autonomy on the Canadian plan granted to Cuba at once.

General Lee believes Spain has lost the island beyond recovery. Under the circumstances, he says, it is the insurgents who would refuse autonomy without hesitation, and they have already practically achieved their independence. The consul general will express the opinion that the United States can now afford to stand aside and witness the independence of the island through the unaided efforts of the insurgents. He predicts that before the winter is well along Weyler and his staff will be besieged in Havana by a triumphant army of insurgents, and then the United States can take a short cut and acknowledge the independence of Cuba.

Carlists Are Active.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The persistence of the belief that the Carlists are watching for an opportunity to take advantage of the present embarrassment of the government over Cuba, as soon as this can be done without a display of unpatriotic motives, is continually finding expression in the more independent and outspoken of the Spanish press. El Imparcial in an article dealing with conflicting rumors now in circulation, declares that it has authority for the statement that the Carlists are secretly establishing an elaborate military organization.

Think All On Board Lost.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 13.—Anxiety as to the outcome of the battle between the old steamer Eliza Anderson, with 125 souls on board, and the heavy gale of Aug. 24 in the vicinity of Kodiak has been greatly increased by a report brought down from Alaska on the steamer Starr to the effect that the Anderson was wrecked and all on board lost. There is no doubt that there is cause for serious misgivings as to the safety of the boat and her passengers and crew.

HINSHAW WILL TALK.

The Accused Man Is to Appear Before the Grand Jury Today.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 13.—The Rev. William E. Hinshaw will tell his story before the Hendricks county grand jury to-day. It will be the first statement he has made since the preliminary hearing immediately after his arrest, as his attorneys did not permit him to testify on his trial. He will declare, as he did on his preliminary hearing, that he and his wife had a fight with two burglars in his home, and that during the scuffle his wife was shot and he was cut across the breast. His attorneys declare that his story in every particular will tally with that recently told by Convict Baney.

Noah Baney has been summoned to appear before the grand jury Tuesday. He now says he was offered money and exemption from further imprisonment if he would testify that he, Van Tassel and Whitney committed the murder. The attorneys for Hinshaw reiterate that they will hang Baney after Hinshaw has testified. Mrs. Short, of Chicago, will be called. It is averred that she will testify that Baney, Van Tassel and Whitney, while at her house in Chicago, said in her presence that they were involved in the Belleville tragedy.

Action Arouses Protest.

London, Sept. 13.—The announcement that the Bank of England has decided to hold one-fifth of its reserve in silver has greatly astonished financial circles and aroused a storm of protest. Heretofore little attention has been given in England to the reports of Senator Wolcott's work, and the present rumor would not be believed unless the Times had given it currency. As a matter of fact, the low tide of silver makes the opposition stronger.

Bandits Are Felled.

Lima, Ohio, Sept. 13.—An attempt to rob the Wells-Fargo express train on the Chicago and Erie road was frustrated near Foraker, Ohio, Sunday. A gang of twelve tramps were discovered on the train. The train was stopped and the men were ordered off, but instead of doing so they made a rush for one of the express cars. The messengers opened fire and held them at bay until the train started again, when the tramps made their escape. It is not known whether any one was wounded or not.

Colorado Midland Sold.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 13.—The sale of the Colorado Midland railroad under foreclosure has been confirmed by Judge Caldwell of the United States circuit court. Receiver Ristine leaves to-night for New York, where the reorganization committee will meet within a few days, and the road will be turned over to the committee as soon as the incorporation is filed and the necessary deeds made and signed.

Nearly Solid Gold.

Eureka, Cal., Sept. 13.—It is reported that J. R. McNeil and George Hunter of Willow Creek, Humboldt county, have located a ledge of gold-bearing quartz which assays over $25,000 to the ton. The discoverers refuse to reveal the location of the ledge or to state its dimensions. Rich float rock, as well as fiber gold, has recently been found in the bed of Willow Creek.

More Land for Settlers.

Pocatello, Idaho, Sept. 13.—It is announced that twelve of the chiefs of the Shoshone and Bannock Indians of the Fort Hall reservation have signed a treaty for the sale of 150,000 acres of the southern end of the reservation for $4 per acre, or, in round figures, for $600,000. This will open up the southern end of the reservation to public settlement.

May Sign Treaty Today.

Constantinople, Sept. 13.—The German Ambassador, Baron Saurma von Jeltsch, has received fresh instructions as to the peace negotiations, and it is believed that these will enable him to assent to the suggestions of Lord Salisbury as to the indemnity. It is expected that the meeting of the Ambassadors to-day will result in the signing of the preliminary agreement.

Another War Ship for Japan.

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—The following Japanese advices were received per steamship Gaelic: The Japanese government has given an order to Messrs. Thompson & Co., the famous Clyde shipbuilders, for another first-class battleship of 17,000 tons, a sister ship to the Skikoshima. It also contemplates building a first-class cruiser of 9,000 tons at Yokosuka.

Must Not Criticize Weyler.

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The government has decided to instruct the military authorities to take proceedings against officers criticising the conduct of Capt. Gen. Weyler, unless they are either senators or deputies. The decision is due to the numerous outspoken censures upon Capt. Gen. Weyler's management of the campaign in Cuba.

Fort Is Surrounded.

Simla, Sept. 13.—News has been received from the front that Fort Shabkadr is now closely surrounded and that any attempt to reconnoiter beyond a five-mile radius is opposed by a determined rebel fire.

Cuban Agents Are Driven Out.

Havana, Sept. 13.—Word has been received here that the Mexican government has expelled from Vera Cruz the representatives of the Cuban revolutionary junta of New York.

MONEY BY HER SIDE YET SHE STARVED

TITLED WIDOW DIES IN FORT ATKINSON.

Came There with Her Husband, an English Lord—He Died Ten Years Ago, and She Promised Never To Return to England—Dogs Had Been Her Companions.

Fort Atkinson, Wis., Sept. 13.—The last chapter in an English romance of many years ago was recorded yesterday in the death of Mrs. Laura Armitage, widow of William Armitage, who died about ten years since.

Armitage, a young lord, became enamored of a handsome ballet dancer and opera singer, and upon marrying her was disinherited by his parents. The couple came out here and bought a forty-acre farm near the Halsey Beemer place, on account of its nearness to Lake Koshkonong, noted for its duck hunting, of which sport Mr. Armitage was passionately fond. This was about twenty years ago. They lived there until the husband died. His widow was provided with an annuity by an elder brother, of about $400 on condition that she did not return to England.

She kept the pact and in a basket near her dingy death bed were found the savings of years, $2,965 in bank bills and gold. Among her effects are three canvas-covered trunks supposed to contain family plate, jewels and other property. Recently the woman has shown signs of insanity. One of her three cherished dogs, which, by the way were her only companions died in the spring and laid in the house until the health officer insisted upon its removal. An attempt was made Thursday to take her to the county asylum. She evaded capture, however, and yesterday death came to her relief.

Not a thing to eat could be found in the house and starvation is thought to have been the cause of her taking off.

Once Rich: Died in a Parlorhouse.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 13.—Jesse W. Helden, at one time a prominent politician and wealthy man of this city and Madison, died in the county poor house of Dane county this morning. Some years ago he was divorced and later wandered from state to state. He returned recently from Dakota and applied for admission to the poor house, where he passed his remaining days.

Two Drowned at Kilbourn.

Kilbourn, Wis., Sept. 13.—[Special]—Henry Debus of Chicago, and the young son of Charles Teshner of this city, were drowned in the Wisconsin river this morning by the upsetting of a boat. Frank Hayner saved himself by climbing on the boat. The bodies have not been recovered.

Favors Conciliatory Plan.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 13.—Mr. MacDougald, Canadian commissioner of customs, is a believer in conciliation. Because the United States customs officers at Skagway and Dyea have been charging $30 for each Canadian horse landed there the adoption of a retaliatory policy by the Canadian customs department is being strongly urged. Yesterday Mr. MacDougald said he saw nothing unreasonable in the American customs imposition. Although Canada could tax American horses crossing the frontier, yet in the present unsettled state of the boundary question he did not believe it would be politic to create any friction. The United States government to-day practically held all the gateways to the Yukon country, and nothing was to be gained by a policy of irritation.

Secretary Gage's Annual Report.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Secretary Gage expects to begin the preparations of his first annual report about the last of the month. Pursuant to his orders, his subordinates are rushing theirs, and will probably have them in by that time, so that he may be fully equipped for his task.

Much interest attaches to this report. His recommendations for currency reform will be an echo of the president's opinion. It is the secretary's contention that the tariff question having been settled, the administration should bend itself to disposing of the currency problem. Being a banker of great prominence and also a man who has the confidence of the people, his words will have much weight.

Hard Fight on De Armit.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 13.—The miners of the Pittsburg district will hold a convention on Wednesday to decide upon a plan of campaign against President De Armit, of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company. The working miners are to be assessed to pay full wages to all the men who come out of De Armit's mines. The miners of this district blame De Armit for much of their trouble and are determined to force him to accept union terms. The camps are to be maintained at each of the company's mines and the Miners' union will pay the expenses.

Frank A Coffin Released.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Frank A. Coffin has been released from the Indiana state penitentiary on a pardon from President McKinley. He came at once to his home in this city.

METHODISTS READY FOR CONFERENCE

COURT STREET CHURCH IS ESPECIALLY ANXIOUS.

Mr. Pence suggests that the newspapers should say "Another Bad Man Found Out," Not "Another Good Man Gone Wrong"—Utterances From Local Pulpits.

One week more and the annual conference of Wisconsin Methodists opens. Jamesville Methodist churches will hold their quarterly conferences this week and will prepare final reports and petitions. Rev. H. W. Thompson will be returned to the First M. E. church for another year. The choice as to Court Street church is as much in doubt as ever. Several names were mentioned, one being that of Rev. Mr. Hall of Whitewater, who preached yesterday.

Mr. Hall took for his morning text the words of Jesus to Peter, while washing the feet of the disciples, after the last supper: "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

He spoke of the mysteries of life, and suggested that we live in an age of inquiry. Is the nation right? Is our government properly conducted? Are the ways of God right? These are questions that frequently disturb the mind. Mystery is written on every leaf, engraved on every stone. The savage is not troubled with these problems, because he is not a creature of thought. Life is full of common mysteries, and we are constantly asking ourselves the question, "Why are the conditions of life so peculiar?"

Frequently we complain that providence has dealt unkindly with us, forgetting that possibly we may be responsible for many adverse conditions. God and providence are held accountable for many things that man is responsible for. The words of the text throw some light on these questions. We think many times that if we could understand the mysteries of life, we could bear them better. There are many reasons why this cannot be. Our minds are immature. The problems are incomplete. The present, and the long unending future, are so closely allied, that many of the problems of life have to do with both worlds. We are blind-folded in the journey of life for our own safety, and to inspire faith and confidence in God. We have a captain who thoroughly understands all mysteries. Let us trust Him now and in the great hereafter when the mists are rolled away we shall understand the peculiar conditions that beset our journey.

Mr. Hall is a vigorous speaker and a strong thinker.

TWO CHILDREN BAPTIZED.

Services at the Presbyterian Church Sunday Morning—Sermon Topics.

Preceding the sermon at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. E. H. Pence, administered the rite of baptism to two babes. The sermon was on "The Tongue of the Gospel." Mr. Pence spoke in part, as follows:

The bible was written in two great languages, the Hebrew and the Greek. But God had a deeper language than either of these; he had a language to speak that was universal. The miracle of Pentecost was a wonderful event—those unlettered, unschooled Galileans standing there, and speaking to men whose language they had never understood in any sense, and yet conveying the meaning of the profoundest revelation that God had made. But more wonderful than that they spoke what they did was that which they spoke, and it was still more wonderful that God had spoken first of all the things which they spoke to these men from the uttermost part of the known world.

The question comes to us, how was it possible for God to speak to me? God speaks in the language of human life, of human experience, of human character, of personality. God did not attempt to speak to man in the language of angels, but it was in the every-day language of every-day experience; and when God wished to express his highest, beating throbbing thought to man he compressed it into a personality, that of Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus' ability to leave the world behind, and come near to the heart of the Father on high was the expression of God's ideal of what a human being ought to be in his relation to himself. In Christ's services, in His self-devotion to His fellow-men, God was trying to teach what was his ideal of a brother to humanity. Jesus fulfilled His every debt to mankind. God speaks in what Jesus was, the Godman, so that now from the vantage-point, as we read upon the page yonder, we can see that Gethsemane was a thought of God's, Calvary was a thought of God's, the resurrection was a thought of God's that we tried to tell mankind of.

But not only in the life of Jesus does God speak to us. He speaks to us in our own life, and our own experience. He expresses to us by the simple experiences of our everyday life the defeats and disasters of human experience in trying to build up a life on a material foundation. He tells us that there is only one thing of value in this universe, and that is that which can feed a soul, and carry it into the kingdom above. This is the tongue of the gospel; our life is its language; our experience is its interpretation; our destiny is the unfolding of its meaning; and heaven above shall be its eternal translocation.

The subject of the evening sermon was "Judea," and the fact was clearly demonstrated that when some seeming Christian is discovered to have committed a great crime it is not "another good man gone wrong," but "another bad man found out."

The Christian Endeavor society held an exceedingly interesting meeting led by Miss Ethel Fisher. M. H. Sorrell, one of the elders, was present and gave a short talk on some thoughts suggested by his recent trip east.

MANY HEARD REV. MR. LONGFELLOW Baptists Enjoyed Able Discourses From North Dakota Preacher.

Rev. P. W. Longfellow of Grand Forks, N. D., preached morning and evening at the Baptist church. For his morning subject he took his text in Haggar, 2-7, and said:

The desire of the Jews was not being very well fulfilled. Much had been done towards it, but they became divided. Haggar came and preached to them about Christ. Christ was despised of men, but there are qualities about him that all men desire.

1. All men desire a perfect hero, worthy of worship. History proves this. The old poets sang of some hero; men of today are ready to exalt great men, but there is no perfect hero; all have some great fault; we cannot worship them. Where can we find a perfect man, one worthy of our admiration and worship? It is all found in Jesus Christ; he is "the desire of all nations." Faith, hope, love, and self sacrifice are all found in Christ.

2. All men desire one who can give the sinful heart peace. The heathen altars declare this. Every one has a burden of sin and desires to get rid of it. How shall we get rid of it? "Come unto me all ye who are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Come to Jesus and satisfy your weary sinful hearts.

3. All men desire to know something about death. It is of all things the most mysterious. Where can we find out something about it? Not in literature or great learning, but thank God, there is one who has been over there and knows all about it. Christ comes and says "I am the resurrection and the life, he that believeth in me shall never die." Oh, sinful, burdened heart, come to Christ, put your case in his hands and receive all the desires of your hearts.

In the evening Mr. Longfellow gave a discourse to the young people. His text was in Hebrew 11:24-6 and he said in substance:

What a strange choice Moses made. A young man occupying a prominent place, having all that man could wish, turns away from it all and chooses to go with the slaves of Egypt. Why was this choice made?

Notice that this was a real choice. He deliberately chose to follow the God of his people, and give up the pleasures of Egypt. He yielded his will to his God.

Notice the motive of this choice. It was faith. He looked forward to the coming of Christ. He believed the promises of God. He took God's word as true, and followed his Maker. Faith is a growth. God helps us to go on from one thing to another and we thus construct the bridge of faith. Moses was growing in the faith of God. He loved him more than he did his adopted mother.

See some of the results. God first prepares him for his work. He then became the greatest law giver of the world and influenced the world more than any other mere man that ever lived.

It pays to choose Christ. Life and joy and happiness here and life everlasting in the world beyond.

The Y. P. S. C. E. was led by Miss Phoebe Langhiser. The subject was "The Bible in Practical Life."

WORK FOR THE CHRISTIAN.

Rev. R. C. Denison Preaches From the Text "What Shall I Do, Lord?"

At the Congregational church yesterday morning the pastor spoke on the text, "What Shall I Do, Lord?" He said:

One of the most pressing thoughts which comes to those who take life seriously is, how much there is in the world for one to do? Out of the thousand duties and the multitudinous opportunities which life presents to us, what shall we do? This question of the choice of duties gathers importance from the fact that so much work is wasted. There are some men who after years of life as they move out into the mystery of death must enter that unknown and new life beyond, bearing with them no real achievement, no real thought from this life. And many another man who after the struggle and labor of his life finds himself with his end attained, and says, "so little done, so little done," for there is constantly before us the possibility that we may put our effort where after all it will gain no real triumph here.

Our safety is always to find the divine thought; we must turn our faces upward and ask "What shall I do, Lord?" Sometimes we may feel that our lives are guided by providential leadings, but often, far, it is revealed to us in the simple laws of our own life and of the world. In the first place, if a man would find what God would have him do, let him ask himself, "What is my duty?" For the voice of duty is the voice of God. Do that which seems to you to be your duty. Answer your conscience and your highest life. But sometimes our duty is uncertain; a man may wonder what his duty is, and may sometimes even be mistaken as to his duty. One answer which God gives us is, do that thing which you can do best. To choose from out the hundreds of duties of life some small or

TRAINED FOR ARENA BY LIFE ON PLAINS

PERFORMERS IN WILD WEST SHOW UNSCHOOLED.

Cowboy Acts Take a Page From Life on the Ranch—United States Cavalrymen Are Said To Be the Finest Rough Riders in the Show This Year.

The cavalcade that will enliven the streets of Jamesville tomorrow morning will be interesting from the fact that it will contain all the famed horsemen of the world from the Arab down to the cowboy and cavalrymen of today.

Art critics both in Europe and America have been put to their wits' end to estimate the true relation of Buffalo Bill's entertainment to the histrionic profession. If the end of art is the holding of the mirror up to nature, then Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show has reached the limit.

This is a realistic age and the extraordinary attractiveness of the Buffalo Bill's entertainment is due to their intense realism. Nobody in the great acquisition has the appearance of having been trained beforehand. Each with simple naturalness does the thing that in private life has enabled him to earn a livelihood, to amuse himself or defend himself against an enemy. There is even a restraint upon introducing what might be regarded as sensational effects or "stage business."

No Stage "Business" Allowed.

The Indians give illustrations of how they travel, make a camp, dance, ride, and deport themselves in battle. It would be easy to extend the program and show how they take scalps, and with the aid of a steam pipe and colored lights deftly managed produce a realistic burning of a prisoner at the stake. Such devices, however, would give a theatrical flavor to the exhibition and are, therefore, barred.

Representatives of all races—each soldier being able to show his furloing as an evidence of his genuineness—make up the great crowd of performers.

The cavalrymen this year are from Colonel Sumner's celebrated Sixth United States Regiment, now at Fort Meyer, Washington, D. C., whose extraordinary athletic equestrian exercises have never been seen elsewhere. It is very instructive to the public as well as to the state soldiery to see the methods now in vogue to perfect the horse soldier in case of emergency.

The artillerymen are likewise on furlough and are from Captain Thorp's renowned Company D., Fifth United States Artillery, and will be a novel addition.

The Secret of the Broncho Show.

The error is entertained by some unthinking persons that there is an element of unreality in the "broncho breaking" feature of the entertainment; that the horses have been trained to do the dangerous things which so delight and excite the multitudes. Nothing could be more erroneous. The mustangs have an evil disposition which has been carefully preserved. The haddling they get only makes them more intractable and vicious and the cowboy who tries to handle and succeed so admirably does so always at the risk of his life.

In fact, the cowboy, up to the appearance of the United States cavalrymen in his superb exhibition, as easily held the position as the best horseman on earth as he rides the unknown quantity.

Inside of a Hundred Homes.

The interiors of one thousand of the most attractive homes in the United States have been photographed by "The Ladies' Home Journal." One hundred of the best of these pictures will be reproduced in that magazine. The first article of the series—"Inside of a Hundred Homes"—will appear in the October Journal. Be it chambers, reception and dining rooms, bathrooms, halls and apartments of every kind will be pictured just as they are in daily use. Each picture contains dozen of suggestions.

THE 12 year old son of Amos Hammond, near Monroe, is suffering from a severe injury. He fell from a wagon and the wheel passed over him crushing his right side until the ribs penetrated the lungs. There was considerable escape of wind and consolidation caused by the bleeding lung.

CHERRY picking has begun. Briere & Pomainville of Centralia, started in with one hundred pickers. They had also engaged one hundred Indians, but they failed to put in an appearance, probably because the effect of the recent pay day had not yet worn off.

DELEGATES MUIR and Evans from Spring Valley, Ill., are in Ishpeming soliciting aid from workmen. At a mass meeting held Saturday night local workmen promised to give one day's pay to strikers. It is expected that over $5,000 will be raised among the workmen of Ishpeming and Negaunee.

THE Cedarburg bicycle ordinance was drawn by Mayor Horn and it is a marvel in its way. It provides that "dealers shall be exempted from taxation." All the bicyclists in Cedarburg have taken advantage of the dealers exemption and have ostensibly sold their bicycles to "dealers" from whom they are now renting the machines.

SEVERAL years ago ex-Mayor Secor of Racine, began a libel suit against a Chicago newspaper and recovered $500. With this money he purchased a clock and presented it to the city, and the same was placed in the city hall. It was kept in repair for a number of years, but for two years past has been neglected and the figures on the face have worn out. Mr. Secor says that he will at once request the city council to pass a resolution to return the clock to him and he will build a tower and place it on the public library building.

SOME TOBACCO MAY SUFFER

Rain Needed For That Which Is in Open Shed.

The tobacco crop, being mostly shedded, is out of danger from damage by hail or frost, but there has been considerable apprehension that the very hot and dry weather would dry the leaf out green instead of allowing it to cure properly. Those who have tightly built sheds can close the ventilators and keep in the shed the moisture that is evaporated from the leaf, which is considerable, but that in open sheds is liable to suffer unless rain comes soon.

CORN TOO DRY FOR FODDER

Will Lose Value Before It Can Be Cut and Stored.

Farmers report that a large part of the grain hereabouts is threshed and oats and barley are a very fair yield. The hot weather dried the corn stalk so fast that before it can be cut it will have lost considerable in value as fodder.

Do you think that millions of women would be using it every day, as they do, if they knew of anything like it for washing and cleaning? Do you think it could have grown so rapidly and so wonderfully, if women were not enthusiastic about it, talking of it, urging their friends to use it? Do you think that hundreds of millions of packages could have been used, as they have been, if there were anything that could be said against it?

NO MORE MOB LAW

The Hazleton massacre is made more indefensible by each revelation. Twenty cool headed police officers used to dealing with crowds would have dispersed the marching miners without a show of force. Ten officers scattered mobs infinitely more dangerous time and again during the Chicago riots without drawing a pistol.

Here lies the point. If there is killing to be done in the interest of public safety, put the work in the hands of experienced men.

If mobs must be shot down that property may be preserved let it not be by passion-crazed partisans gratifying a lust for blood.

Among all civilized peoples the taking of human life by legal form is done only after great deliberation and full inquiry. Only the higher courts are given capital authority. So grave is the responsibility felt to be that a direct avenue of appeal to the highest authority in the land is kept open.

Why, then, make a temporary emergency the excuse for arming undisciplined hot-heads, placing them above civil process and sending them forth to kill?

LOAN RECORD SURPASSED.

The banks of the country are now lending fourteen per cent more than the highest volume ever attained in the history of their operations. This is incontestable proof that the amount of current business transactions exceeds all precedent. This sudden expansion to a condition of normal activity has in it no element of speculation. It is in response to bona fide wants, and shows none of the dubious elements of a mere manufactured "boom." The fact that such a measure of recovery has come within the short period of three or four months is a very satisfactory sign of the sound condition of men of business and of the adequacy of republican financial and revenue legislation.

GET ON THE WAGON.

The assistant secretary of the interior, after wide traveling, confirms the commercial reports coming in from every state to the effect that labor everywhere is finding employment and merchants and manufacturers turning with renewed interest to their work. The country's pulse is strong and healthy and its monetary circulation, which has long been congealed in money centers, is pressing rapidly back and forth through all the arteries of trade. Doubtless there are some who will get off the financial wagon and wait for developments, but where there is one getting off there will be half a dozen to get on.

Prosperity is a great institution. It reminds one of the humorists' remark that "nothing succeeds like success." Prosperity commends itself to everybody and grows by examining its own proportions. It is as catching as the measles or prairie fire. You can get a man to talk nowadays about the weather, but you cannot get him back on the old grumbling basis of the past four years. Croaking never did go well with a republican administration.

If the Dingley tariff did no more than to stop the importation of shoddy and of impure and adulterated tea it would be worthy of the endorsement of the people, but these are only among the incidental benefits of the law.

There was no sign of terror in the murderous frenzy of the Hazleton deputies. Unarmed men running for helter skelter would inspire fear, and all but five of the seventy miners were shot in the back.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul stock is selling above par for the first time in fourteen years. That tells a good deal about what experienced business men think of Wisconsin trade prospects.

When a political leader reaches the stage in which he tries to override the wishes of the majority of his party the majority should shelve him, as his usefulness as a leader has gone.

Recent events indicate that the workmen are beginning to distinguish between their real friends and those who pose as such, for a salary and pickings.

There are men who cannot recognize prosperity when they see it, and the suspicion is growing that many of them are engaged in editing democratic papers.

Big receipts of corn in Chicago have taken considerable money out of the speculator's pocket and put it in the farmer's.

The southern preachers who are adopting sanctification as a doctrine would be mugwumps if they were in politics.

Eugene Debs has graduated downward from a labor agitator into a socialist and from a socialist into an anarchist.

It is a wise politician who gets from under that toppling silver structure before it falls and crushes him.

Mr. Bryan is now sorry that he said a return of prosperity would make republican triumph in 1900 certain.

Expedition Lands in Cuba.

New York, Sept. 13.—Another expedition has landed near Havana. It is the one that Minister De Lome led the revenue officers to expect would start from Bridgeport, Conn. The expedition sailed from the Jersey coast without trouble. As a result, 3,000 more rifles and 800,000 more cartridges are now in the hands of the insurgents. The moving spirit in this enterprise was Rafael de Cardenas, who was formerly brigadier general in the insurgent army and a member of the late Gen. Antonio Maceo's staff.

State Federation Meeting.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 13.—The State Federation of Labor will hold its annual convention in Bloomington this week. The convention will continue in session three days. Most of the work of the federation will be done in secret. The reports of the president, Charles J. Riefler, and the secretary, Charles S. Bush, will be full of interest. It is quite certain that "government by injunction" will be one of the subjects considered.

TO CURE DYSPEPSIA.

A New Remedy Which Will Do It.

Chronic dyspepsia is considered by many people to be nearly if not quite incurable. No good reason can be given why they think so except that perhaps they have tried various remedies without much, if any benefit. But the progress in every branch of medicine has been such that among other things a lasting cure for indigestion in its chronic form as well as temporary has been discovered and is now placed before the public strictly on its merits as a permanent cure for all stomach troubles or difficulties with the digestive organs.

This new treatment is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, being put up in tablet form so as to be easily taken and also to preserve its good qualities for an indefinite length of time.

This remedy has produced surprising effects in the worst forms of indigestion, and in many cases where ordinary remedies failed to give even relief, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have fully cured.

The splendid results from using this preparation are owing to the fact that it is prepared and intended for Dyspepsia and stomach troubles only. It is not a cure-all like so many advertised remedies, claiming to cure everything under the sun, but it is claimed that it is a certain cure for Dyspepsia and anyone suffering from any form of indigestion cannot fail to get permanent relief and cure from its use.

It is so prepared and the ingredients are of such a nature that when the tablets are taken into the stomach they digest the food no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. You get sustenance and strength to mind and body by reason of the food being properly digested and at the same time the much abused stomach is allowed to rest and recuperate. Notwithstanding the great benefits to be derived from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the price is but 50c for full sized package and all druggists sell them.

HIGH SCHOOL FULL; NEW SEATS NEEDED

PUPILS DISMISSED EARLY TO PERMIT CHANGES.

Another Row of Seats Must Be Put in at Once, To Accommodate the Increase in the Fall Attendance—All the Upper Grades Are Well Filled.

There was a big increase of attendance when the city schools opened today. This was especially marked in the high school where it took most of the forenoon to divide the pupils into classes and where the decision was reached before nine o'clock that the seats would have to be all taken up and set together closely enough so that another row could be accommodated.

Reports from ward schools were slow in coming in but the teachers all reported a full attendance. In the second ward there is great need of room and the addition to the Adams school will be very welcome.

There was no work done in the high school today after classes had been assigned. Every seat in the room was full and many held two pupils. In all about four hundred pupils reported, with more promised for tomorrow. Last year the first day's attendance was nearly a hundred short of this.

Lessons were given out and school was dismissed as soon as possible. The first recitations will be heard tomorrow and the seats will be moved to accommodate the overflow as soon as possible.

Superintendent Mayne said at 1:30 that the upper grades were crowded in all the wards while the lower rooms afforded ample accommodations. A larger proportion of pupils are remaining in school to complete the full course, teachers report.

ENJOYED DAY AT DEVIL'S LAKE

Twenty-Three From Here Took Advantage of the Sunday Excursion.

Twenty-three local excursionists spent yesterday at Devil's Lake. An excursion train starting from Jefferson Park, and consisting of eleven coaches, pulled into this city at 10:45 o'clock yesterday morning, containing some 500 passengers. This train the local delegation boarded, arriving at the lake at 1 o'clock. At 6:15 the train departed, reaching Janesville at 8:30 o'clock. The day was an ideal one for such an excursion, and those who attended were well pleased with the day's outing.

CAN'T SHOW AT SPRING BROOK

Wild West Management Find the Ground Is Too Small

Spring Brook has not enough open space to accommodate the Buffalo Bill Wild West show. Advance Agent Thomas H. Clear visited the grounds today at the corner of the Beloit road and Eastern avenue with the intention of having the show pitch their tents there tomorrow in case the space was found large enough, the rent of the ground being much less than at the fair grounds. The largest open space was found to be too small, and the show will pitch their tents on the fair grounds.

HIS $175 WATCH IS GONE

Saloon Keeper Charles Frank Robbed by a Light Footed Sneak Thief.

Charles Frank, the Edgerton saloon keeper is missing his $175 watch and the Janesville police have been asked to help him find its whereabouts. Late Saturday afternoon a message arrived in town giving a full description of the stolen timepiece but conveying no information as to the suspected thief. Frank says that some one must have sneaked into his place of business Saturday morning and taken the watch when no one was on guard.

SHOW USES TEN TONS OF HAY

Wild West Contracts Made—Meat and Groceries Shipped Here.

It will require ten tons of hay and straw to feed the Buffalo Bill horses while the show is in this city tomorrow. Dave Brown, the Court street feed dealer, was today awarded the contract.

Meat and a large portion of the groceries are this year shipped to the show at different points along the road by wholesale dealers.

School District No. 5 Again

Editor Gazette—The stars and stripes are thrown to the breeze again, although the vote at the last annual school meeting was to the contrary. Rock county is the banner county in the state when flags are to be hoisted over the school houses, and Dist. No. 5 is the banner district in the county. On the 11th a splendid staff was raised that bore a 16 foot flag and within 80 rods two more flags of the same size and two smaller ones were put up by the old settler who offered the resolution authorizing the purchasing of the flag for the school district. May he live to see them float for years to come. Fair Play and Half of the Bond.

BENEATH DEATH'S CLOUD

Funeral of John P. Osgood.

The funeral of the late John P. Osgood was held from the residence of his son, George H. Osgood, 252 South Jackson street, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

Rev. B. C. Denison, of the Congregational church, conducted the services, and there was singing by a quartette composed of Mrs. A. O. Wilson, Mrs. S. B. Lewis, H. C. Buell and C. N. Vankirk. The pall bearers were B. F. Crossen, W. B. Honesteel, Stephen Chase and A. H. Sheldon.

The casket was almost hidden from view by flowers, there being many handsome pieces. One large design was from the fire department and bespoke the regard of Assistant Chief George H. Osgood's fellow members.

George A. Greiger.

George A. Greiger, the seven month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Greiger, died yesterday at 2 p. m. at their home seven miles east of this city. The child was ill but a short time with cholera morbus.

Funeral services will be conducted from the house tomorrow at 2 p. m. the Rev. George Kaempfe of this city, officiating. The interment will be in the Rock Prairie cemetery.

“WAKE UP, JONAH!”

By JOAQUIN MILLER.

[Copyright, 1897, by the Author.]

Jonah was and is even now to be seen here snugly housed in one end of his huge old whaleboat by one of our Oakland wharves, an old Yankee sailor, tall, lean, lank, once as full of old sea stories as an old pincushion is full of old needles. Nearly all of these stories are made up of dreadful shipwrecks, in every one of which he bore a conspicuous part and was each time the worst shipwrecked sailor of the whole crew, and I think this is why the Californians, long, long ago, when it was the habit to call men by queer names, called this man Jonah. Anyhow the name was firmly fastened on him when a few years ago he was set to watch a certain place by the shore and give alarm in case of fire.

Well, in a few days the place took fire, and everything, including old Jonah, as it was thought, was burned to ashes. But as these Californians always rebuild very quickly the workmen, while clearing away for a new foundation, heard a voice away down below, and opening the mouth of the well that had been covered by falling timbers, there they found poor old Jonah, up to his neck in the water, where he had fallen while running in great haste to give the alarm of fire.

This and other less important incidents in the same line gave the honest old sailor such a reputation for bad luck that few fishermen or pleasure parties were willing to embark with him if other boats were to be had at hand.

But on the 28th of November, 1883, the day on which the California Arbor day was established, the old man had his big boat filled with as bright and lovely a little crowd of country boys and girls as could have been found for miles around, and this was because every other boat had been engaged to go to Yuba Buena island, in the middle of the great and most glorious bay of San Francisco, where the ceremonies were to take place.

This great, big and ugly island in this broad and most beautiful bay on the globe, if we except the bay of Naples perhaps, is a barren and rocky place. It belongs to the government and has a pretty lighthouse on it. There are four other islands in this great bay of San Francisco, but they are not so barren and ugly. One of them is a huge fort, with more than 500 cannon and many soldiers on it. Another one is a great place for building ships.

And so, as this barren island lies almost in the middle of this magnificent bay and is nearly between Oakland and San Francisco, where boats pass by continuously, it was agreed that it would be a good thing to begin our California Arbor day by planting this ugly and barren island with forest trees.

General Howard, the one armed old hero of Gettysburg and many another bloody field of battle, was in command of our armies and armament on this coast at the time, and he headed the work by giving all the ships and all the sailors and all the soldiers to carry the people to the island and help plant trees, and so on.

Mr. Suro, the great engineer who made the Suro tunnel into the silver mountains of Nevada, gave us 50,000 trees to plant on the island, and as he was to plant the first tree, and as General Howard was also to plant a tree, and as the governors and senators of California and Nevada were also to plant trees, and as the famous orator, John J. Irish, was to make a speech, why, you see, nearly everybody wanted something of that sort along. True, there were two or three young men who did not have their own sisters, but they had some other young men's sisters and so did not complain. There was one pale and plain little girl who seemed quite alone. She was very plainly clad too. Her dress was black. And there was a blond young man, who was all alone. The pale little girl looked up to him and seemed to like him. But he was clearly in love with himself, and did not very graciously accept the seat which Jonah assigned him by the side of the solitary little girl in black. But still, as everybody else was happy, he too, must make merry, and as the boat, with its fluttering flags and its passengers, pushed off and swung about with its head toward the island the blond young man shouted out:

"I say, old duffer, what's your name?" "Jonah." And the word came up like the growl of a grizzly bear as the old man leaned heavily to his oars. The name and the manner, too, of the old man seemed to dampen the spirits of the handsome blond boy who sat by the side of the plain little girl in black, and he said no more, but sitting himself over to one side he drew out a bunch of nasty cigarettes, and without even asking anybody's leave, lighted one and puffed away, as if he had been smoking ever since his mother had left off his long clothes.

The old man pulled hard and steadily. The pretty girls from up in the Sierra Nevada mountains glanced out from under their bonnets and all took in the sunlight and the sea and were silent with joy and admiration. The young men counted the huge battleships that bore the flag of England, and they marveled at the size of the mighty iron ram that had almost destroyed the navy of Peru and had made Chile the greatest naval power in the Pacific.

Twenty-four bands of martial music loaded the delicious air with melody. It was a stirring scene. But long before the clumsy big whaleboat, with its one pair of oars in feeble old hands, could make the landing the ladder was drawn up and the ceremonies were well under way.

In this state of affairs all that could be done was to pass on around toward the Golden Gate and get as near to the music and the speakers as possible. This the old man did, and, casting anchor, was soon nodding in his seat, for the sun was hot, and then, his work had been long and hard for one so old and worn.

The big boat swung about, pointing toward the Golden Gate, which opens into the Pacific ocean some five miles distant. This brought the rope by which the anchor hung close under the arm of the blond young man with the cigarettes, where it creaked and squeaked continuously. The music ceased, and then the speaking began, but the party in the boat could not hear what was said, and some of the less thoughtful began to grow restless and mischievous. A freckle faced boy with small eyes and a sunburned nose tried to tickle the sleeping old Jonah on the neck with a wooden toothpick, but could not quite reach. This inspired the blond young man, and, sticking his burning cigarette on the point of his penknife, he leaned over, and, in the midst of giggles from the whole party, with one exception, perhaps, he held it close under the old man's nose.

Fortunately it did not harm him, and, after coughing slightly from the smoke, old Jonah again doubled up like a pocketknife and soon was sound asleep as before. But the spirit of mischief was now abroad, and the handsome blond boy, with his penknife in his hand, turned his attention to the creaking, squeaking rope that held the anchor. At first he only cut it a little, just for fun. And how they all did giggle! All but one, and that one put out a little brown hand feebly from under a black shawl and laid it reproachfully on the blond boy's arm.

This only angered him, and, setting his teeth, he severed the rope and let the great boat swing loose and drift as it liked.

The giggles burst into laughter, laughter loud and furious, as the old man's head bobbed up and down under the action of the swiftly moving boat, and his hands, from force of habit, held stontly to the oars.

"I hear the music again, but it seems a good way off," said the eldest of the girls suddenly. She half arose, and, looking in the direction in which the boat was drifting, cried: "And the Golden Gate is close by! And the great ocean! Look! Here is the open ocean! Wake up, Jonah! Wake up, Jonah!"

Blanched faces and silence! No one moved or spoke. But down from over the side of the boat a little white cigarette slid, and falling into the water with a scarcely audible "sizz" was soon left behind and lost sight of. The old sailor opened his eyes slowly as his name was called. Slowly he looked from one terrified face to the other, and slowly but certainly took in the situation. He did not say one word or look right or left. He only held tightly to his oars and kept in the midst of the now roaring current, straight for the open sea.

Let me explain how the Golden Gate, through which so many tons of gold have passed, is at certain times swift as the swiftest river, and at such times you cannot land at all. You must pass right on and out, as if shot from a gun. And this is the reason: A great river flows into this bay and floods it full as the tide sets in, so that when the tide sets out it goes with fearful force and swiftness through the narrow, rock bound Golden Gate.

Indeed so swift and swirling are the waters here at such times that the Spanish settlers have long held that the traditional macstrom off Norway has a counterpart at the Golden Gate. Fremont, who named this the Golden Gate two years before gold was discovered in California, tells us of some young officers of our navy who perished here with their boat and left not even so much as Imprisoned in a Burning Mine. Melbourne, Sept. 13.—Fire is raging in the Broken Hill mine, between Jamieson's and the Broadbent shaft. Two hundred men who were engaged in efforts to extinguish the flames were overcome by the poisonous fumes. Fifty have been brought to the surface, and of these three are dead. Efforts to subdue the fire are being continued from the top of the mine.

Staking Gold Claims in a City. Victoria, B. C., Sept. 13.—Quite an excitement has been caused by Charles Haywood and other prominent citizens staking off claims in the heart of the city. They claim to have good specimens of gold-bearing rock from a ledge which runs from the water front right through the business portion of Victoria.

"WAKE UP JONAH!"

a plank to tell of their fate, and so their names for years and years were carried forward. They were even promoted in their order. But they were never heard from any more.

"Why don't you land? Why don't you land?" gasped the blond boy at last as the racing and eddying waters of the Golden Gate began to lap and leap into the boat.

"Shut up, or I'll land you over the hull!" was all that old Jonah said between his set teeth.

Up and down, down and up and away. Oh, but that old boat was a nuisance! She seemed to smell the rattling salty waters without the gate. The snap and the sparkle and the dash and the color of the awful sea lighted her. And even old Jonah was wide awake now, wide awake as he had not been since he had retired from the sea and eked out a stint as a landsman. There was a glint in his old eyes, a gleam of gladness, even with all this misery and helplessness at his feet in the boat, for the young folks were nearly all sick now—fearfully sick.

The handsome blond boy had wilted, faded as fades a sunflower when it is cut down. That last remark from old Jonah had cut him up terribly. His head leaned over the boat. The little girl in black at his side held on to him as if she were afraid he would fall out, and he did not resent her kindness this time, but seemed to rather like it. She drew him back closer to her, after he had disposed of his vanity and his bile together, and his comely head gradually settled over on to her little black and bony shoulder.

"Poor, dear young man! It's the cigarettes. Help hold his poor head, please." This was what the little girl in black whispered back over her shoulder to another quiet little girl who sat close by. And so the two together held the wilted blond head between them.

Firm as the rocks that lock the walls of the Golden Gate was old Jonah all this time. The sun was setting low and fast. Full and large and luminous as a world of flame lay the sun on a sea of blood for a second only, and then it was night on the surging, heaving bosom of the sea of seas.

Bear in mind that it was thousands of miles from the spot where Balboa and Cortes first saw this great ocean and named it "the Pacific," but it is not pacific here. It is a roaring lion. It is a terrible ocean for an open boat, from here even to Alaska.

The stars came as the sun went out, as often happens in this life of change and events, and it was not dark, but it was cold—oh, so cold! You see, the winds blow down from Alaska with great force all the season here, and out in the open ocean here you should be clad in furs. Indeed, I often see ladies wearing sealskin cloaks in San Francisco all through July and August.

The girls that lay crouched in the boat were but thinly clad. They were wet and crying with pain from the cold. The boys were no better. In fact, they shivered harder and made a good deal more complaint than the girls. The big blond one, however, had managed to get in between the two quiet little girls before spoken of and was comparatively dry and comfortable, but the two little girls were so wet and were shivering so badly that old Jonah began to fear for their lives. More than once he lifted now. It trembled so that he could hardly speak. His left hand had slipped from the oar. The rowlock rattled heavily, but the hand lay helpless.

"Little girl, where is your father?" he gasped again.

Her two little brown hands clasped together clumsily, hardly able to hold together from the cold and wet, but holding them, so she raised her pitiful face to heaven. Her chin quivered and her lips trembled, but she could not speak.

The old man understood. With his one remaining hand, he lifted his hat and laid it reverently down as he said in a whisper so soft and low that maybe only he heard it:

"Then we must look there for help." And a long time he looked steadily upward, and the trembling lips and the quivering little chin were lifted also.

The two rowlocks rattled and rasped and rasped and rattled. The boat was her own master now. She had turned about. Her bow was to the Golden Gate. The tide had turned.

It is strange that some one on some one of the many ships had not seen this party and its peril, strange that some watcher from some one of the light-houses had not seen this lone craft in its peril, but it is a fact that this boat passed out of the Golden Gate, spent much of the night in the open ocean and was finally borne back with all its precious cargo saved and with no other help than the help of him to whom all will cry out for help at least once this side the river of rest.

THE END.

Encouragement For the Feeble.

So long as the falling embers of vitality are capable of being re-kindled into a warm and genial glow, just so long there is hope for the weak and emaciated invalid. Let him not therefore, despair, but derive encouragement from this, and from the further fact that there is a restorative most potent in renewing the dilapidated powers of a broken down system. Yes, thanks to the invigorating tonic virtues, Host's Stomach Bitters is daily reviving strength in the bodies and hope in the minds of the feeble and nervous. Appetite, refreshing sleep, the acquisition of flesh and color, are blessings attendant upon the reparative processes which the priceless invigorant speedily initiates and carries to a successful conclusion. Disease is restored, the blood fertilized, and sustenance afforded to each life-sustaining organ by the Bitters, which is ineffective even to the feeblest palate, vegetable in composition, and thoroughly safe. Use it, and regain vigor!

The Nest of the Osprey.

The osprey's nest is built of heavy sticks, turf and plant stalks, fastened by seaweed. It is lined with a network of the weed, and in the course of a few years it acquires a further lining of down. It is carefully repaired by the owners each spring and fall before and after the summer trip, and in this way it remains solid for many years.

TRY GRAIN-O. TRY GRAIN-O.

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich, brown, Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. 1/4 the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sale reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes iron easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

AMERICAN MANHOOD,

Whose bravery, valor and value to his country has been attested by every General in the U. S. Army during the last 30 years.

Who will positively appear in person in the saddle, and take part in both the afternoon and evening exhibitions.

Coming crowned the true teacher and real entertainer, whose name is a symbol for romance, realism and sincerity; the hall mark of the genuine and truthful, whose career is a bright chapter in the history of the nation's brave, devoted, patriotic men in the service of their country; whose personality has won the admiration of monarchs and the people of foreign lands, a credit to America, an honor to mankind. As is the man, so is his entertainment; without false pretense, sham or humbug. It brings to your very door the men of all colors who BUILT THE EMPIRE OF FAR WESTERN STATES, to show you how they wrought. Whether in fierce fight or ferocious frolic the life in the semi-civilized sections of the great west moved, lived and had their being, while Moulding A NATION'S HISTORY.

Allied with these Heroes of our own Blood and the Braves a well-nigh extinguished race, he brings from all lands Men of a like kind; Men whose Hearts are with their Horses and whose lives are in their Saddles, all forming an EXHIBITION WITHOUT ITS KIND.

YOU MAY NEVER SEE ITS LIKE AGAIN.

An Ethnological Display of the Horsemen of the World, gathered from the Four Quarters of the Globe.

We Have a Limited Stock Of the Famous Eli Pettijohn Breakfast Food Left.

The remainder cannot last much longer. It's a bargain not to be overlooked. Not so very long before you pay more for it. Two-pound packages, regularly 15c package; 2 for 25c; we sell at 10c package; 3 for 25c. Worth taking advantage of, but don't delay; time is almost up. It's an easy matter to cut down living expenses when such a staple article as Pettijohn's Breakfast Food is reduced to such an extent.

New Deal In Fruit-- During the balance of the season we will retail all Fruit at wholesale prices. This decision on our part will mean a great saving to purchasers and is an announcement that is perfectly reliable. We intend making a leader of our Fruit to draw trade. We don't expect to make any money on it, and, as we said before, simply handle it as a trade bringer. Quality, of course, is the one thing to be most considered. Our Fruits have always been the best and all Fruit carried by us in the future will be up to standard all around. Prices quoted will be only on the best quality. All our Fruit is bought through a broker on South Water Street, Chicago, who has done our buying for the past thirteen years. We receive large shipments every day. He is a good Fruit buyer as our goods have always proven. Our prices will be considerably lower on the same class of goods than you can buy elsewhere

WE QUOTE A FEW PRICES ON VERY FINE FRUIT:

Bartlett Pears, 35c basket; retail price 45c peck.
California Pears, 15c dozen; retail prices 20 and 25c dozen.
Damson Plums, 6c quart; 80c case.
Lombard Plums, 30c basket; retail price, 40c.
Choice Peaches; 15c to 35c basket, according to quality.
Fancy Crawford Peaches, 33c basket.

California Tragedy Plums and Egg Plums, 25c box; regular price, 35 cents.
California Tokay and Muscat Grapes, 10c lb.; 40c basket; regular price, 50c basket.
Bananas, large ones, 13c dozen; 2 dozen for 25c.
Fancy Concord Grapes, 10-lb. basket, 16c; regular 20c kind.

And so on down through the entire list of Fruits the prices will be proportionately lowered. Remember the qualities are the best when comparisons with other goods and prices are made. We don't make money on the fruit; its simply a leader.
